People Back of President's grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. Action in Mexican Crisis.

905 ATTEND NEWS SERVICE MEETING

Mayor Mitchel Commends Fair Attitude of Press and Discusses "War."

Whatever be the political faith or the momic attitude of the newspapers throughout the country, they, and through them the expression of the sentiment of the American people, are squarely back of President Wilson in the present Mexican crisis, judging from the tone of the speakers and the opinions expressed by the editors at the luncheon at the opening session of the annual convention of The Associated Press at the Waldorf yesterday. Representatives, either in person or by proxy, of the 905 papers that hold a membership in the association at-

In the absence of President Wilson, who was to have been the guest of honor, Mayor Mitchel took his place on the speakers' Frank B. Noyes, of "The Washington Star," president of the association. and Henry J. Allen, of "The Wichita (Kan.) Beacon," were the other speakers. President Wilson sent a telegram of regrets to Melville E. Stone, secretary of the association, in which, after expressing his disappointment at not being able to attend, he said :

"I am sure that those present will approve of my remaining in Washington at the present critical juncture to meet any duty that may unexpectedly arise.

The representatives of The Associated Press held sessions before and after the uncheon, at which six members of the board of directors were elected, or reelected, and considerable routine busiess was transacted.

President Noyes caught the spirit of the assemblage when, in presiding at the luncheon, he paid a high tribute to President Wilson for his present attitude toward the Mexican problem. He said: "All shades of public opinion and re-

Leginska and Caslova Give Recital-Mrs. Watts Gives Dance to "Apollo's' Hymn."

The concert season is dying hard. Last night saw an interesting recital in Aeolian Hall, when two young women, both of whom possess far more than usual ability, appeared jointly before a large and enthusiastic audience.

Both young women have been heard before this season. They were Ethel Leginska, planist, and Marie Caslova, violinist, They opened the programme in Sinding's sonata in D minor, Op. 29, an interesting composition that was receiving its first presentation in America. The two artists showed an admirable ensemble spirit, and their tone was warm, though, in the case of Miss Caslova, small.

After the opening number Miss Leginska played a group of Chopin Preludes, in logis at Johns Hopkins University. which she once more displayed her extraordinary powers. In her interpretations there was poetry, fire and imagination, and if she sentimentalized, for instance, the "Raindrop" Prelude, it never became mawkish or effeminate.

ELECTRICITY AN ENEMY OF CANCER

Hospital Authorities Announce Success in Treating Dreaded Disease.

The New York Skin and Cancer Hospital, at 19th st. and Second ave., issued a statement yesterday describing the treatment of cancer by electricity and announcing the success of such treatment. not only in the alleviation of pain but also as an aid to the restoration of health.

There are three methods of treatment mentioned. These are known as fulguration, thermo-radio therapathy and electro-coagulation. These indicate, respectively, a starvation, a heating and a cooking of the cancer cells. The last named term is one given by Doyen, of Paris, to designate the method in which currents of high frequency are used for destroying growths. Cancer cells are destroyed by a temperature between 59 and 55 degrees C. (121 and 130 degrees F.). while normal cells are resistant up to 60 degrees C. (140 degrees F.). In 1907 Doyen claimed that the heat produced by currents of sufficient strength caused a coagulation of the tissue and a destruction of cancer cells, even at a consideraable depth, without the destruction of the normal cells.

Electro-coaguation has many advantages. It can be used in those tissues inaccessible to the knife. This treatment has been used at the hospital with satisfactory results in fifty cases.

Fulguration or starvation by electricity is used after operations, when there is no microscopical trace of cancer tissue. An electrical spark is used, which acts on which the growth might develop.

Thermo-radiotherapy is a method of thermo-penetration-a heating of the diseased tissue, with the addition of a cooling of the skin, the purpose being to advanced cancer. In inoperable cases and with patients who reject all operative interference it may be employed as &
